

Baz had a chat before Friday's cup game with Derry City

20-year-old Barry McCabe made his second Airtricity League start last Friday as UCD made it two wins from two with an impressive 3-1 victory over Cork City and the midfielder spoke to ucdsoccer.com's Ryan Bailey ahead of this evening's cup clash with Derry.

The Galway native is part of the highly successful UCD scholarship programme and has come through the ranks at Belfield as he looks to establish himself as a first team regular. McCabe began his footballing career with local side Salthill Devon at the age of just four before being snapped up by the Students shortly after he completed his Leaving Cert at the age of 17.

“We had a very successful team at Salthill and it was a great time for me. We made three consecutive all-Ireland finals but lost them all. I loved playing for them because the team was full of my best mates and most of us lived beside each other too.”
